

MIKE WARD: PSYCHOSONGS LYRICS

WE WONDER

You began you life before you began to swim
But remember the water was there before you So don't abuse, use it in the right way Games are here to play tomorrow and today But remember not to cheat Before the day goes by, you're bound to get beat

And you wonder about the wind Will it ever blow your way again and as your hair grows thin and you commit your sins you walk your life on needles and pins You wonder, yes you wonder

I tend to see the humor in things other people don't and I have this life all to my own still don't know what it takes to be alone An old man's story of a young man's dream is about the saddest thing I've ever seen It's about the saddest thing I've ever seen

And you wonder will it ever be the same Will the days be long and hot or cold again and as your teeth fall out and you try to shout but your voice gets cracked by a meaningless doubt

Fourth of July and every girl and guy is dancing in the streets Ain't nobody home,
Nobody gonna work, nobody gonna roam Life is rough and life is tough Life just isn't long enough But remember we all get along And someday lord, we'll all be gone

And you wonder about the dead Are we what we were or what we said And as we crumble up and we stumble down and nobody cares if we make a sound We wonder yes we wonder

THE OTHER SIDE

I was 6 or 7. don't quite know which.
We were on the Canadian side of the blue water bridge My dad took us there to fish and swim and sail we a big black boat named after a great white whale

At the end of the day everyone ran to the 57 Ford A station wagon big enough for the family Ward 8 kids two adults. Counting noses added up to 10 so my dad started the car and off they went

They left without me I was still on the other side
To this day I can't recall if I even cried Got some sympathy out of it A coca cola and a bag of chips
I just knew I would see them again on the other side

We were Irish Catholic but that you probably guessed Our home was filled with lots of chaos, love and craziness
The occasional fight over church and sports. Over rights and wrongs
It was where the misunderstood and misfits could belong

Margaret went off to college... later moved to NYC my brother jack left to study art and be who he could be Cathy drove away to find fame in fashion designs Chris and Tom got married, found houses with sold signs

It's not their fault they had to live their lives Staying home wasn't all that bad
With my brother Pat living in my parents pad
It wouldn't be long before I would see them on the other side

BREAK: On the other side, sometimes I'd like some time to myself on the other side, I'd feel some guilt over how it was I felt When I think about it now, it's so easy to see The cost to get to the other side... well, it ain't free

Paul was the first to go... at 16 in a car crash Mom made it to 87 until her body just couldn't last My sister got cancer and she lasted only 7 days At 95 my dad just sort of slipped away

I remember days trying to make sense of all these things A family of 10 with one bathroom, one shower and one huge ass sink
I remember that day I was left me behind Was that a mistake or was it a sign?

They left without me I am still on the other side
I do miss them each like the day misses the night I don't know if I believe In things I cannot touch or see
But I do hope to see them all on the other side Yes I do hope to be together again on the other side

THE NEXT ROUNDS ON ME

whether my glass is half empty or half full.
it's sort of like a gravitational pull liquid courage or a paralyzing potion either way each day I get my quotient wearing Four Roses or a Royal Crown putting it on never lets me down so raise a glass to me and one to you the bartender's buyin' so I'll have two raise a glass or two or maybe three let's drink a toast the next round's on me whether I'm howling at the moon at night or all lit up in the broad daylight the drink betrays me ounce by ounce makes me forget what really counts bombed on Irish car bombs smashed on sour mash the next morning leaves me draggin' my ass

how many fingers am I holding up, one or two?
raise a glass or two or maybe three

whiskey in my veins, glass shots to the heart from Sazerac to uncle Jack, oh that's just a start mixed and mulled with a hundred-proof habit so drunk that I can't walk think I'll just cab it.
I am aged in barrels yet never mature know every single solitary hangover cure raise a glass to me and one to you for all those empty bottles well, we've drank a few

tastes sweet as baby's breath but it's a little closer to the smell of death.

YOU FROM ME

wore my sunglasses down below my ears so the sun could not escape my tears burned my eyes and felt the pain roll it back again

now yesterday is dead and gone and tomorrow well it seems so long away wish I could remember the name now it seems to escape me somehow (G)

CHORUS: and it's all inside your mind, those restless feelings that divide...you from me seven years is a long, long time to hold a torch and waitin' for a sign think I'll have another beer it helps my mind stay clear there was a point in life when I really needed you but now I look at another point of view about the time we both got tired threw love into the fire

trade your heart for an old burnt shoe cause that's about what mine was worth to you sometimes you gotta grin and bear it but if the shoe fits than wear it

CHORUS 2X

THE SONG REMAINS

the song remains... the song remains strained refrains and soft sustains reaching right into our souls with strings of steel and truth be told through cracked, crooked voices a chorus will sing

the song remains... the song remains they may not recall your name
the song remains, the song remains
the song remains but never the same every song has a color, different shades, different hues from raging red fire to the deepest darkest blues they rise up off the sea like a sacrifice eith stories and secrets and simple questions why

riding the tracks like an old freight train it begins way back in the back of your mind ends in a whisper sung in four-four time remember what Robert Plant sang so many years ago

the song remains, the song remains
it's there for you to stake your claim

songs of blinded broken love and witness to our times perfectly pitched into the pitch black night they're all around us they're everywhere we turn they can make you feel hopeful or make us crash and burn

it's there for you to stake your claim

WAKIN'

wakin' and my bones are achin' wakin' and I'm makin' up my mind to leave this hurt behind and movin' on draggin' like a broke down station wagon draggin' and I'm baggin' up my past into a big old pile of trash and movin' on but at least I'm wakin' up my eyes no longer will stay shut this world has gone insane where one man's loss is another man's gain but at least I'm still wakin' up

Risin' but it's dark on the horizon Risin' to an surprisin' ring of the bell sayin' repent or go to hell and then movin' on gettin' up and I grab my morning cup gettin' up and I interrupt what might have been as I contemplate all of life's sins then I moved on at least I'm wakin' up what I've learned is all messed up I was scrounging for spare change to get me over rough terrain but at least I'm still wakin' up. I'm still wakin' up lyin' and I'm in a pan fryin' lyin' and I'm tryin' to get away from the lost souls I met today and movin' on in danger...from a perfect stranger in danger ...and rearranging all I know and these dark thoughts I can't let go to move on

I ain't rich but I ain't corrupt I worked hard for what is mine even if I lose every single dime but at least I'm still wakin' up. I'm still wakin' up. Still wakin' up.

STILL THE SAME

Yesterday seems long ago now I can't remember why
The things we did and the things we said Now I'm staring at the wall tonight Full of fear and full of fright Wishing I were someplace else
A far away inside my mind I can hear your voice Telling me of something close to you But the more I hear the less I'm clear As to exactly what it is I'm talking to my self but it's not true

And the coldness that waits in the hall still remains
And the reason that you left is still the same

Loneliness is a funny game to play inside the mind Its disguise is many times the same A face that wears a laughing smile Yet crying lonely all the while Is reaching out to cross the pain

And when I finish this song tonight I hope to never sing again
I hope to never see you again My eyes are shut my brain is cut But my fingers float along My scars just never seem to heal

I'm wishing I were far removed from this point in time Far away from here
A snowstorm deep inside my mind
Remembering only the tears

CHORUS I am frayed around the edges
Faded blues and blood reds
Divided as we are, with all our battle scars
I don't remember how I fell this far

I'M FORTY FIVE

I'm 45 and I ain't got no mother
I'm 45 and I ain't got no brother I sit here with my cousin and my niece
And think how nice it would be to get a piece I'm 45 and I ain't got no other

I'm 45 and I'm out of work
I don't believe in God and I don't believe in church Well I'll tell you one thing and I'm on the level Well I even sold my soul to the devil I'm 45 and I am unemployed

I'm 45 and a hundred pounds overweight
There ain't a food in the world that I can say I hate I sit here and I watch the clock Well I think I might as well get crocked
I'm 45 and a hundred pounds overweight

I'm 45 and I ain't got no hair I'm 45 and goddamn I don't even care Well I go the barber and he say "man, You better go to Florida and get yourself a tan"
'cause you're 45 and you aint got no hair

I'm 45 and I'm lyin' on my deathbed
With a bunch of cheese and a bottle of beer at my head
You know me and you know me well
You know, you know I'm goin' to hell
I'm 45 and I'm lyin' on my deathbed

I was 45 the day I died
My dog spot was the only one who cried Cause I fed him every day of the year Now he'll never get another Gainesbuger
I was 45 the day I died.

THE STREAM

There's a stream running through this land of ours
A stream that flows blood red
The banks are lined with all the lives
All the truth and all the lies
And all the things that we wish we had said

I can hear at least a hundred million voices
As I travel on where life once belonged Voices echoing honesty trampled under by society
They'd rather bury what's right than change what's wrong

And what you give today and what you take today
Can make a difference for tomorrow
We must try today before we die someday
To make something for tomorrow

From California to the New York shores
From Nicaragua to the bloody Mid East wars
Every day the names and faces change
The more they change the more they stay the same
And the stream keeps rising til it reaches your door

And what we do today and what we don't today
Can make a difference if we try
Not so long ago and not so far away
I was taught to keep asking why

All the truth and all the lies

OUR TURN TO SHINE

I'm the last of my kind an incandescent life from another time Slow to turn on I won't last long sort of like this old song

I'll be replaced by an LED 820 lumens like a new TV Find 'em at a Lowes Home Improvement part of the next youth movement

Energy efficient for decades to come by the time it goes dark, I'll be gone I'm a dinosaur made of glass and tin take me out screw a new one in CHORUS But for now, I'll light the way Brighten up your every day

If only for a short time... it's still my turn to shine

I can chase away the night
I'm the perfect reading light Whether it's an old newspaper or an Elmore Leonard caper

When I'm done reuse my glass and those tiny little wires of brass Can't do much with a broken filament when it's no longer radiant

BREAK: I've been flickering for a little while I'm on my last mile Let me illuminate your smile before I go out of style

In the days before lamps we'd sit around the camps Looked to the fire for all we desired Maybe that day will return when all we will burn Is ourselves in the sun

CHORUS: We'll let it light our way Brighten up our every day Woahhh-oo ... for the rest of time it's our turn to shine. it's our turn to shine....

HOW SWEET YOUR DREAMS

How sweet your dreams dear, how sweet your dreams
Even though everything is coming apart at the seams How sweet your dreams how sound your sleep I pray the lord your soul to keep How sweet your breaths, dear, slow, soft and warm Calm and unaware of... the oncoming storm How sweet your kisses, how bright your smile I will watch over you now and all the while

CHORUS Lying next to me as darkness nears And the weight of the world disappears don't what I did before you came along I just know you're the right to this world's every wrong

How sweet your tears dear rolling down your cheek Tell me why you cry ... what makes you weep?
How strong your hold dear, your hold on my heart I'll chase the nightmares hiding in the dark CHORUS & REPEAT FIRST VERSE

WHY CAN'T THAT BE ENOUGH?

I could use a little color, can't always stand up straight In my dilapidated charm rusted latches on my gate
I am where the pavement ends
On the coldest lake in Michigan
I am where I've always been where I always wait

Up here, you're off the grid. A little off the rails Off to the dock with one of those India pale ales No shaving and no showers Staring at the stars for hours
I am the times of your life. Every breath you exhale

CHORUS I am here for you, waiting patiently Though my fire has gone out and my edges rough to touch.
I'm a part of you and you of me
Why can't that be enough?
Why can't that be enough?

Once you fell into the marsh in your Sunday best Later wandered in the woods alone scared me half to death And the time you almost burned me down Leaving embers lying on the ground
I am your silence and your secrets always to be kept As hard headed as the hardwood floors never wipe your shoes A backwoods and bare-foot life is the one you often choose To say that it's roughing it Well, that doesn't quite cover it I'm a test of your survival watching your every move

BREAK: You think you're building character While my walls are falling down
You drive up every weekend Then you turn right back around It leaves me feeling empty and it leaves me feeling old Don't forget to blow my pipes out before it gets too cold

Well, I hear you plan to knock me down put a new one in my place With all the comforts of your life so you don't feel so far away You'll work so hard to get that prize If only you would realize You really don't need all that much at the end of the day

CONTENT

Caught a cold when I wasn't even chasin' it Saw the light when i wasn't even facin' it Found myself when I wasn't even lost Built a bridge that I still have never crossed

Tried to escape without really ever leavin'
I was telling the truth while make-believin'
The harder I look at things seems the less I see Went searching for a forest all I found was a tree

CHORUS It's a simple life in a complex world
I want what's mine and you want what's yours But when you're all by yourself and the money's all spent Are you gonna leave this world completely content

Used to sit in a cube trying to think out of the box
 If I only knew more about bonds and stocks I'm on the fence between the future and the past Watching time pass slowly but I think it's gaining fast

Sometimes I wish that I had smoked more dope Read more books and maybe used less soap Gone to sleep later, planted more trees Learned a language to say fromage instead of cheese

Whether it's a paradox or a paradigm A pair of twos or a pair of nines a full house beats three kings every single time and close only counts in shuffle board and land mines

Is it possible to hate the very thing you love?
 Possible to be full yet never, never get enough?
 Am i at the bottom while I'm climbing to the top I'm about to get going but I think its time to stop

CHORUSIN THE LIGHT

At times we all burn out like a torch or an old oil lamp
 Our flame extinguished, our potential left untapped

Maybe it's the stress of living or the weight of work
 How do we measure up when we don't feel our worth

We search and search for answers, even the slightest trace Something that can help us find our way out of this dark place

Without light what do we do?
 Without light we all have fear
 Without light our eyes, our eyes are blind
 When we cry no one sees our tears

Naked in our own truth all our selves exposed We try and try to make our way out of the deep shadows
 In the stark contrast between the day and night Every second is a battle, every minute is a fight

Without light what do we do?

Do we really understand the secrets each of us keep Even when those closest to us sink down so deep

Will a smile or a kind word touch a heart that's achin'?
 Is this how we can provide some illumination?

In the light we all can see In the light we all can shine
 In the light there is a ray, a ray of hope That can heal us all in time

MIDNIGHTVILLE

Walking round in midnightville
 The roads don't lead nowhere
 The houses have all gone dark Crumblin' into thin air

Walking on the cracked concrete the lights barely flicker above Wandering the red brick streets searching for some kind of love

 I ain't looking for a touch or even a kiss Maybe just a little push to get me outta this

 the trains they rumble along Car by car and stop by stop the same old troubled song Walking round among these once proud hourlies Line after line of all the closed down factories
 I ain't asking for someone to have my back Maybe just a little ambition it's what some say I lack

BREAK: Hate has joined us here and fear rules the day A hollow shell now where we dwell lies in decay Oppressed, distressed, regressed all while we're wakin up hints and glints and tints on the side of a shakin' cup Hands that shake and take the stake out of the ground Hearts that break yet embrace what's going down

Walking round in this old town faded walls and faded lives Wish I could just keep walkin' and kiss this place goodbye

I ain't asking for tears no sympathy
 Maybe just a little hope for what's left inside of me

PIONEERS

Where would we be without pioneers?
 Standing in one place for thousands of years
 All those before us in all walks of life Who took on the challenge well aware of the price

CHORUS: The spirit of the dreamers
 The visionary schemers
 For those who looked out and never looked away You're what we wish we could be We'd like to see what you see And you're what we wish we could be

She was a teacher and she taught us all To look beyond our own four walls
 She was a teacher and so much more With the dream of a lifetime but a lifetime so short

BREAK: To answer the call, to risk it all leaps of faith some times staring death in the face The questioning and the uncertainty.
 Seeing only possibility

We look to the future now with tear soaked eyes
 And a pain so great it could paralyze Just when we think we can't go on anymore
 The spirit inside us blows open the door

FARTHER DOWN THE ROAD

A little farther down the road I'm on A little farther down the way I wish that I could see The path in front of me
A little farther down the r-o-a-d

Youth is certainly wasted on the young Kind of like a song that's waiting to be sung Growin' up too damn fast Trying to out run the past With all the answers on the tip of our tongue

Weigh the wrong and right
The darkness and the light

I try to do good things because I've done some bad Left some tears behind along this broken path
I have no bucket list
And no longer a clenched fist Looking forward to no longer looking back

BREAK: Down the road a piece, down the road a while One foot in front of the other, mile after mile Down the road we move or down the road we go With a lifetime's worth of baggage behind us still in tow

When all the flowers have been dried and pressed And this world has not heard my last breath I'll look back on it all Wishin' winter could turn back into fall Just once more before I lay me down for my final rest

A little farther down the way
I cannot clearly see The place where I will be

THE LINE BETWEEN US

Let's give it a rest tonight
All the yelling and screamin'... I got no appetite I don't want to give in To this feeling I have that'll start it all over again Well, I'm tired of hearing it go round and round I'm about to put my heel and toe back on the ground
It's been a long time coming but now it's true That the line gets wider, it just gets wider between me and you... between me and you.

Oh, thinkin' back to when we started out When the job and mortgages were all it was about I couldn't hold my tongue...
I could hold a drink even though our love was on the brink
Well, we tried to find shelter in each others' arms
We did but we also did each other so much harm Our days just run from black to blue and the line gets wider, it just gets wider

BREAK: Maybe it's the lines on the highway, the lines on your face where you sign your name, the line that leaves no trace Long lines you wait in, line items that you deduct

Then you finally realize that you fucked it up

What do we do now today
With all the broken pieces of our lives that have chipped away What doesn't kill you just hurts instead makes you want to take back everything you said Well they say it's this that makes you strong I been through it and I say that's dead wrong Our words hurt worse than any punch we threw

NO WAY TO LIVE

I sleep on the sidewalk the cracks in my back All my possessions in clear plastic sack
I got holes in my pockets and my shoes are untied
The cold's moving in and there's no place to hide

I don't ask for much I'm just lookin' for change Years of living this life have clouded my brain
But I'm reading my book as I sit by the curb Most people figure I'm somewhat disturbed

CHORUS Why can't turn your life around, they ask
Why can't you turn life around?
It's a question I hear every day of the year
Why can't you turn life around?

Don't judge me or think I'm just down on my luck It's like a Catch22 that's where I'm stuck No training to speak of, job prospects are dim I could eat on my wages but couldn't pay rent

My skin's turned to leather, my eyes have gone dark Can you look past it all and see deep in my heart
I used to have goals and I used to make plans Now I sit here hoping someone gives me hand

Why can't you turn life around?
It's no way to live and there's nothing to give
Why can't you turn life around?

I'm somebody's daughter, I'm somebody's son Someone who played on your street carefree in the sun
I might've been through a war or run away from it all Watched over your kids as they're learning to crawl

My story is told on a handwritten sign it's the only thing left I can truly call mine To protect me from rain I sleep under a bridge
I have no idea how far I am from the edge

Why can't you turn life around?
When you're always on guard, eye contact is hard
Why can't you turn life around?

Maybe I got a will and I still have a voice do you really think I am out here by choice I pray to god and I hope he can hear That I ain't in this place this time next year.

TIME*

Little hand's on the five...big hand's on the ten Face we learn to recognize...to be where, by when

It can improve some wine...heal many wounds
It can fly by so fast...and be gone far too soon

CHORUS: The pendulum swings ticking time, oh time Catches up sooner or later with no rewind Before it's up it can wear us down
If we knew where to look could there be more to be found?

Carbon to diamonds...particles to pearls Seeds into sequoias...astral dust into worlds

Measures of life...unwritten histories
The marching on...of seconds and centuries

CHORUS: The hourglass sands sifting time, oh time Catches up sooner or later body and mind
Before it's up it can wear us down
If we knew where to look could there be more to be found?

Early to bed...early to rise Forging ahead...falling behind

Can we stop the clock...re-start the ride Take back the stolen...and keep a little on our side

CHORUS: The sun chasing shadows across time, oh time Catches up sooner or later to yours and mine
Before it's up it can wear us down
If we knew where to look could there be more to be found?
If we knew where to look could there be more to be found?
If we knew where to look could there be more to be found?

ALL WE HAVE ARE WORDS

No hugs or high fives. No hand taking a hand.
Only what we say with our eyes across this silent span.

In times of tragedy, we said "there are no words".
Now it's all we have to comfort and reassure.

CHORUS: All we have are words, clichés and simple prayers
All we have are words, ours and theirs
To make our feelings heard, All we have are words

No fingers through hair. No slaps on the back.
Wiping away the tears. Tickling toes or riding horsey-back.

Through windows and doors. In joy and grief Of mine and yours it's testing all we believe.

BREAK: Can't breathe a single one or even eat some Be at a loss for any or be a man of few or many Take them out of your mouth Mince them or mark them
The ones exchanged or passed or uttered as our last

BROKEN

Had broken teeth and broken strings Had no more song left to sing On the road since seventy six Playing mostly for drinks and tips

Drove a beat up old blue chevy van Slept in the back on some bags of sand From El Paso up to Estes Park
He took his time making his musical mark

CHORUS: And you could hear him sing...I can't turn water into wine turn left when I shoulda turned right, I could turn the other cheek Turn myself in for being weak, get the hell out of my own head And make my peace, where I make my bed
...where I make my bed

An awkward man never got close to anyone Lyrics told the tale of a life on the run Fell for Rita who deserved much more Than a tired old truck stop troubadour

Who sang Willie, Waylon and some Buck Owens
When the going got tough that's when he got goin' Never forget the words to any song Couldn't remember what street he lived on

Two packs a day, cheap case of beer
He was running out of minutes, hours and years Found him face down his lips were frozen blue It was his final show at the Red Horseshoe

BACK AGAIN

CHORUS: Look into the photographs
All the pieces of our past Look at all the time we spent All the days that came and went

Look into the eyes we share Crooked teeth and greased back hair Our faces shone so brightly then Why can't we can't get those days back again...back again

VERSE: Who were we to ask for more?
What was the change we were hoping for?
And what did we really have to say?
Was the world gonna listen to us anyway?
CHORUS

VERSE: Polaroids. Black and white snap shots Who made it through and who did not?
Where did it all go? Did we get anywhere?
Or are we still stuck between here and there?

BREAK: Frozen stares. A few angry glares
It was a time of innocence Silly grins. Yeah, a few shenanigans, long gone ever since
CHORUS

IT SHOULD BE ME

Was it in a bottle or a much deeper dive?
Sleepin' it off, keepin' barely alive Lies I told you, lies I told myself Hopelessly lost, resistant to help

Stolen credit cards, stolen trust All for a couple grams worth of empty rush Glance in the mirror scars hide the guilt Spurned every warning, burned every bridge I ever built

CHORUS: I walk each day with a stone in my shoe A reminder of the pain I had put you through I think of each time I let you down
It should be me...six feet in the ground

My darkness spread like an oil spill Demons took me in of my own free will Yeah it should be me, gone far too soon
It should be you, sipping wine under the moon

BRIDGE: Where do I hide...

You brought me here unconditionally Sacrificed, fed and clothed me I'm still here, not sure why or for how long I'll try to make it right, undo some of my wrong

LET LOVE LEAD THE WAY

Want to tell my story Don't know where to begin Want to change my future And the shape that I am in The doubt and fear that grips me I beg for its release To gather my shortcomings Oh and make them history

CHORUS: Oh Let love lead the way
I follow though my feet may stray Through hurt and pain, loss and gain Let our love... lead the way...lead the way

Open on the table
My heart and soul exposed Weakness may have led me here Now your strength has taken hold

You can piece me back together Even if I'm missing parts Wrap your love around me Oh, til sunrise breaks the dark

I follow til all my debts are paid Through prayer and pain, loss and gain

Let our love lead the way... lead the way... lead the way... lead the way

Oh, Let love lead the way I follow on the path we've laid Through hurt and pain, loss and gain...let our love...
Through broken hearts and false starts ...let our love Through prayer and pain, loss and gain
Let our love lead the way

A LOT OF WORK

You're in every line and every stanza Kind of like a love bonanza
A kissing hugging extravaganza
I could fill verse after verse Both forward and reverse For better or for worse Across these 40 years
And all these changing gears Life filled with joy and tears...

CHORUS: Our love takes a lot work
Takes a lot of work, we like the perks
A Love like ours takes a lot work

16 thousand 21 days Since we met each other's gaze
You set my heart ablaze Still never time enough When push comes to shove
To show the depth of my love
I live for your touch and your glance But apologize in advance For the crazy way I dance...

Sometimes I keep you out too late Somedays I don't communicate On occasion I hesitate Yeah but if I had more I'd want to give you even more Good thing nobody's keeping score When we met my life was a mess I'm so glad that you said yes I am most certainly blessed

Takes a lot of work, dinner and dessert
Takes a lot of work, takes a lot of work

LETTING GO

How did you manage to even laugh?
Cook a dinner, sing a song, teach a class?
With no protective armor or leaden shield
On this unfamiliar, family battlefield Day after Christmas, sixty five Mustang full of boys on a little joy ride
If you could travel back in time you'd never let him leave Spent seventy years learning how a mother grieves

CHORUS:

Letting go getting past
No one told you how long this would last An uphill battle, the fall back down
He was your hidden scar til the day you went home
The hole left in your heart til the day you went home

As I lay my hands on your tired feet I'm reminded at some point we're all set free From this aching pain life accumulates and the knowledge you have that no one escapes

BREAK: You were our rock. Where did you find the will?
Defined by the details of that night so still A family gets what a family needs, held together by a string of rosary beads

WRESTLING WITH GHOSTS

Well he wakes up at night on the floor next to his bed
With a cut on his arm, and lump on his head Blanket is wrapped and tangled around his neck
You can hear him yelling, "Boy, I'll fight you instead"

Then sometimes he swears a dog sits in his room Breathing right on his face, in the light of the moon Or he's battling rats, from under his sheets Keeps him awake, fills his darkest dreams

CHORUS: He ain't ready to leave. He ain't ready to go He's just wrestling... he's just wrestling with ghosts...

He puts dinner on the table for my mom and him
She doesn't answer when he calls out again and again
He makes a report, when policemen show
We have to remind him she died ten years ago

Nightmares so real they tore at his pounding heart
He told me dealing with loss, that's the hardest part Haunted by death of two kids and a wife
He found comfort in letters and cards later in his life

Well at ninety five his body finally gave in Went to be with my mom, and the rest of his kin His stories still live, in the back of our minds We'll hear them again on the other side

CHORUS: Still he wasn't ready to leave. He wasn't ready to go But he's done wrestling....done wrestling No, he wasn't ready to leave. He wasn't ready to go But he's done wrestling....he's done wrestlingwith ghosts...

QUIET HERE TODAY

Fraying fabric in the wind Inhale, exhale then again Chirping from the wires and trees Breaking out in purples and greens

Creaks of aging wooden floors Carpeted footsteps in corridors Silence breaks a siren calls Echo on these old deaf walls

CHORUS: Sure is quiet here today
It's quiet here today
No work and no play
It's quiet here today...Sure is quiet here today

The muffled pounding of progress Gloved and masked as we pass Stare into deserted stores Lapping waves on lonely shores

A ghost town is now revealed Isolated, while we heal Steam rises from every rooftop
The sun arrives with no time clock

At home we're gonna stay Sure is quiet here today

It's quiet here today
No work and no play

It's quiet here today
We bow our heads and pray Sure is quiet here today. It's quiet here today

NOT TODAY

She stood on the corner in the dirty melting snow
Said every day above is better than one below
She wore a tan fur coat and an almost silk black skirt Who would argue with the wisdom of her words

Every day we learn more about who we really are The sharpness of each cut. The dullness of each scar Her eyes tell a story that we can't really know Every day above is better than one below

CHORUS: We go our way...we go our way...we go about our day... sometimes we look the other way...but not today, not today

Digging ourselves out of an avalanche Every day we breathe is better than one we can't And every day of firsts is better than our last Of finding a future we're not looking past
CHORUS

Life is a burden every day we lift
The slamming of each door the pounding of each fist
The simple reason we pick our head up off the pillow

LET THEM BE LOVED

Let them be loved. Let them be held Let them have feelings so completely felt

To be shown kindness. Have shoulders to lean upon Let them find comfort today and beyond

CHORUS: Let them be loved...Let them be loved...
Ohh let them be loved

Let them keep secrets ...deeply held beliefs
To ride on the wind and tame the seas

Let them open up another one's eyes
Let them be the sunlight in someone else's sky
CHORUS:

BREAK: Let their pain be our pain Their doubts wash away Their burdens be lifted
And their voice be true and never sway

Let them learn lessons to let others in To know when they get knocked down,
They can get back up again

Let them be heroes. To see the unseen Let them help others to dream their dreams

CHORUS: Let them be loved...Let them be loved...
Let them be loved...Let them be loved...Ohh let them be loved

CAREER ADVICE

Worked in a warehouse drove a fork lift Stacked liquor cases on the midnight shift Scrambled eggs in very short order Just north of the Mexican California border

Sprayed fake snow on Christmas trees Dug sign post holes and made Dairy Queens Sold GIQ's to more than a few Ate tar and gravel paving roads and bridges too

But through it all I learned a lesson or two Some words of wisdom I'll share with you It's career advice that I sure hope will stick just don't be a dick

No matter the job no matter the pay I learned you gotta show up every single day Whether changing out the urinal cakes
Or diverting sludge from the valve intakes

Now your a job can be replaced by robotics
They don't need healthcare or antibiotics That shitty job can be shipped over seas
To keep it you may have to get down on your knees

Through it all I learned a lesson here or there Some words of wisdom that are too good not to share
It's career advice that I sure hope will stick...

If you're a boss or an owner, don't be a jerk Maybe offer employees a couple of perks Like free coffee and no knives in the back And once a month, an afternoon snack
In the workplace lying and cheating gets rewarded So make sure all your conversations are recorded There'll be times you want to scream and yell Times you want to tell them to just go straight to...

Well ...you can always learn a lesson or two...
Some words of wisdom I'll share with you It's career advice I sure hope will stick... just don't be a dic-tating, irritating, infuriating, ingratiating, exasperating exaggerating, emasculating, calculating, sex-baiting, favor-trading,
all the fun confiscating...
It's is career advice I sure hope will stick just don't be a dick.

THE CURRENCY OF FORGIVENESS

coffee brewed hours before she's awake hot water saved for the shower he takes drives with no sense of direction sometimes accepts of a course correction listens to the same story told a hundred times waits patiently at the end of the line holding doors...holding tongues it all evens out when our days are done

CHORUS worth all you have...and nothing less all the tears and years that you invest there, from the moment you met no IOU'S... no repaid debts
in the currency of forgiveness an apology long before there's a fight no admission of who's wrong or who's right a halfhearted confession from some past life indiscretion

it's a beautiful complicated mess will it all add up to happiness?

It's a long haul...there's bumps in the road It's only heavy if you don't share the load no regrets ...big or small always say I love you before nightfall

life keeps you up at night but love never rests isn't this why you both said yes
in the currency of forgiveness in the currency of forgiveness

there are falls from grace...falling stars from the sky fall in New England...washing over your eyes the fall that you take when you meet your hearts end you may never recover from that one again there are falls you barely survive others make you feel more alive

CHORUS: we keep falling, falling and falling like rain soaked to the bone...aching and drained
we keep falling, falling asking where, how and why and hope that one day we will rise falling off the wagon falling off a bike one or the other can change your life there are falls you see coming...falls you endure falls where you dream of a better world an oak falls in a lightening flash no gettin' back up no second chance

soaked to the bone...aching and drained
wait for the time we will rise

BRIDGE: rise up, rise up, fly and soar...rise up, rise up,
falling no more

CHORUS: no more falling, falling and falling away peaceful. protected. Free from the pain no more falling and falling or tears to be cried now is the time we will rise. now is the time we will rise

I FOLLOW

I followed my sisters and brothers I followed the temptation of others worked hard to fit in...inside a different skin I begged, stole and borrowed...but mostly I followed morning mass...a heathen acolyte heaven or hell...well, it could be either side said all my childhood confessions not sure now about any of those lessons

I followed...the stations of the cross gave credit for the wins...took blame for every loss I prayed that those wafers...were actually the savior cheap wine was the blood I swallowed...I served and followed cut off jeans and faded t-shirts six packs, cigarettes.. driving round the outskirts wasting our lives, our futures, our pasts hoping to death that the die had not been cast

I followed the dream we were sold could not tell the truth from lies we were told tried to outrun...the things that I've done just to make it through tomorrow...oh I followed

BRIDGE: to avoid detection, hide my own reflection, an acne filled complexion, a guilt ridden erection...falling far short of perfection now I follow the road less travelled turn by turn the secret gets unraveled I will follow a girl...to the ends of the earth my soul no longer hollow...my heart I follow oh I follow my heart I follow...oh I follow

ALL WE'RE HOPING FOR

a little bit of hope is all we're hoping for find our way to an open door our fingers crossed before all is lost

some sign of life is all we're living for on the losing end of a lopsided score getting hard to see or show humanity
some sign of life is all we're living for

BRIDGE: who feels the loss?...which side will win? will god absolve all our earthly sins?

an honest act of love is all we're longing for unchain the prisoners of this war free to forgive and at last admit

at the end of our rope under a microscope

LOST LOVE LETTERS

he was rootin' around in that old root cellar looking for a bag of mail trying to find some lost love letters crumbs left along a trail lined paper torn from a bound notebook written in ball point pen from me to you...words so true or was he just imaginin'

CHORUS: no it's not the one you haven't met only the one that you can't forget memories may fade
but a promise never made
is a promise always kept can't go back ...can't move on no matter which way he chose like a fragile moth to a fiery flame he was drawn to get too close

memories may fade

BRIDGE: he said i love you so many times or was it only in his wayward mind reading in between the lines he's still searching for a sign maybe in the one to Paris stamped but never sent pages that elude him now of a love that came and went

THIS OLD LIFE GOES

today I saw my old friend tim truth be told there wasn't much left of him it was his face, his hands and curls of hair but a big part of him was no longer there.

he grabbed my arm and stared into my eyes not sure it's me that he really recognized always took on whatever life would throw it's just the way.... this old life goes.

CHORUS what part of us is the first to go?
brushing our teeth or touching our toes will we still dream? or want ice cream?
be out of our mind? or just doing time?
guess it's the way the old wind blows.
guess it's just the way...this old life goes...this old life goes.

sweet grand baby squirms upon his lap both wearing diapers and could use a little nap no more work—the occasional sing-along each day's the same from dusk to dawn.

it's not about fairness about wrong or right so make sure you kiss your loved ones goodnight memories get stolen with eyes opened or closed
it's just the way... this old life goes.

THERE I WAS

there I was in Chula Vista used my last piece of good luck looking for a little resurrection to get myself unstuck

it was a town of one too many a place with no point of view punched my ticket to the promised land thought every word you said was true

CHORUS: seems like I'm living on the wrong side of nowhere no roots in the ground yeah, I'm living on the wrong side of nowhere
the lost that can't be found left me here with empty pockets a ring short of a wedding band staring at the wreckage all around me

'bout to make my last stand

no roots in the ground
the lost that can't be found

BRIDGE: did you get what you wanted did you mean to set me free your escape route just wasn't always clear to me.

not sure where I go from here what I am looking for will I even recognize it If it walked right through the door

CHORUS: I'm tired of living on the wrong side of nowhere putting my roots in the ground no more living on the wrong side of nowhere the lost that's been found I was lost but now I'm found

COMPACT LIFE

got a compact car...whole lot easier to park fits in those hard to fit spaces never a part of street drag races driving next to an SUV well, I feel a little puny good on gas near and far...i got a compact car got a compact build...five foot five still strong willed as a kid, I was sorta stocky bad for hoops good for hockey wished i was tall and thin...and maybe a bit more significant no fashion sense no frills...I got a compact build

BRIDGE: but I'm expanding my heart stretching out my soul letting my spirit span this entire earthly globe ain't gonna let this moment go got a compact disc...all it took was to take a few risks folks who believed in me all my friends, my extended family got no vinyl or cassettes...nor many financial assets can anyone still play this?...I got a compact disc got compact life...some of you may wonder why downsized a few years ago here's what I've got to show a smaller carbon footprint...a 42 year sacrament. still makes me feel so alive...I got a compact life

I got a compact life, oh yeah
I got a compact life with a compact car and a compact build
I got a compact life with a compact disc in a compact world I got a compact life a compact home, compact wife...I love my compact life

we always seemed so young...til suddenly we were not brothers, sisters, mom and dad...the whole big lot as we scattered then gathered together back again preparing ourselves for our second wind we remember all hands folded ready to say grace each and every one of us is in our narrow little place never let on there's a loose tooth on the edge of your gums

'cause that dentist's work, well, it's never done

CHORUS: smile, it's what we all got from him smile for the camera and let it smile back again smile for the slides and the prints and the film it's how we'll remember him there were ten of us at one time- now we're down to six brand new additions add life into the mix face forward for the portrait we hear the camera click. deep in hearts we hear life's clock tock tick

CHORUS: smile even though we are aching inside smile side by side by side smile no matter the shape we're in record the moment then begin again

A mouth full of big teeth, silver hair and dark eyes as the wind hits over the starboard side and though the pain of loss is still right there we can smell the river in the thick morning air

smile for the slides and the prints and the film that's how we'll remember him

SOMETHING ANYTHING

I'm looking for something positive today
I'm looking for something positive today on every street on every face momentary signs of grace
I'm looking for something positive today

I'm looking for something I believe in today
I'm looking for something I believe in today to leave fears far behind restore faith in humankind
I'm looking for something I believe in today

BRIDGE: could be something big or something small could be almost nothing at all might not mean a thing maybe changes everything

I'm looking for something I can give you today looking for something I can give you today to quell all of the noise a little peace, a little joy
I'm looking for something I can give you today
I'm looking for something I can give you today
I'm looking for something positive today
I'm looking for something I believe in today

SUNDAY MORNING*

A poem by Marjorie Ward sunday to mass, then home for a treat breakfast is special, service is neat clean up and pack, beds made by the clock yellow car waiting to drive down to the dock routine takes over, boys hoist the boat girls mind the babies, order by rote baskets on board, skipper in place motor is started, slow now is the pace slow now is the pace

gone is the hurry, no more rush that day leisure takes over, we're under way family joy creates a bond parents are friends and the children they respond now they are gone those joyous days love nurtured them, it eased our ways those Sundays still live in each member's heart they keep us a family even though we're far apart even though we're far apart

AMERICAN INSANITY

Every day in the comment section There's talk about insurrection Calling names at our own reflections Exploiting our imperfections An online viral infection Where truth can't pass lie detection Happens every single election It's a crossroads not an Intersection

Each side is so partisan Not open to our fellow man Always ready to open a can Thinking each of us is better than All over this apathetic land Who really has the right to ban Books, ideas gays or trans Sinking us into quicksand

CHORUS: It's Insanity... oh all around me Hyperbole... Qanon conspiracy Instability... oh say can't you see.
It's insanity... from sea to shining sea

Let's talk about the right to choose What every woman could lose From red-state courtroom abuse Holier than thou point of views
A dynamite stick with a lit fuse
A handmaid's tale vacation cruise Going backwards we must refuse Come on there's no excuse

It's a constitutional crisis Congress running round like 3 blind mice Talking bout where Jesus Christ is Acting oh so righteous Made of gold like King Midas Scarier than Taliban or Isis Contagious as meningitis
It's all gonna come back to bite us

CHORUS: It's insanity. Oh all around me Idiocracy... a dictator wanna be Lies and deceit... oh say can't you see
It's Insanity. from sea to shining sea

BREAK: Dark clouds above forming That was our capital they were storming Oh It was more than a warning What will be left standing in the morning?

Now we got to separate
All the church from the state
All the love from the hate When there's crime investigate Stop all the click bait Meant to eviscerate Contaminate, manipulate Take a stand, vote, demonstrate

CHORUS: Its Insanity. oh all around me no civility .. just criminal proclivity rewriting history... oh say can't you see it's Insanity American insanity... Tucker, Trump and Hannity... no integrity... a future catastrophe... a damn calamity... use some profanity... cause it's insanity from sea to shining sea

SOMEBODY'S HOME

It arrived today with a smiling face from somewhere close yet far away over 6 feet tall on my front porch steps delivered in 24 hours or less my kids don't really care what came inside it they pretend its a bus maybe even ride it I could recycle... to help mother earth instead probably kick it out there by the curb

CHORUS: My Amazon box somewhat oversized that Amazon box I just realized before the garbage man came ... it was gone my Amazon box is about to be somebody's home corrugated cities with very little shelter duct taped together all helter skelter once filled with mattresses and big screen TVs now packed under overpasses as far as you can see

CHORUS: Oh Amazon boxes, inside is a surprise Yeah Amazon boxes in every shape and size Portland to Detroit to San Antoine those Amazon boxes have become somebody's home

BREAK: a refrigerator box can seem heaven sent when you can't afford to pay your rent address unknown ... torn off tracking code bubble wrap pillow... milk jug commode they take no comfort cause they have no means living in the home of nobody's dreams

CHORUS: Oh Amazon boxes from every prime account yeah Amazon boxes they mount and mount from trucks and planes, even a drone those Amazon boxes now they're somebody's home those Amazon boxes just knock, chances are ... somebody's home

WISHING WELL

From the bottom of the wishing well.
I wish that i could wish you well.
From the burning fires here in hell I'm looking for a truth to tell

CHORUS: I say... do some good. Do no harm Don't give in to the twisting arm Because these are troubled times
these lives of yours and mine

All those well-heeled hands that rob us blind
And their souls so dark and void of light From the steeples of the righteous right driving nails deep into the night

CHORUS: Stand alone. Stand apart.
Take a deep look into your heart
Because these are troubled times
these lives of yours and mine

BREAK: It's hard not to be cynical about the world around us today we must protect our words and our right to say them before our freedoms slip away....

CHORUS: So... Raise your voice. Make it heard Don't leave a single stone unturned.
Because these are troubled times
these lives of your and mine
so seek the proof in the face of all the untruth
in the face of all the untruth
in the face of all sides we choose. in the face of all the fake news in the face of all we might lose in the face of all the untruth in the face of all the untruth

IMMIGRATION NATION

It's 4am and we're rolling out of bed
scraps on the table so the little ones are fed
Hoping for work and that we make it home tonight

Dangerous conditions. 100 mile bus rides.
Work still gets done even done with pride Labor in shadows keeping our head down Making two dollars a day in this All-American town

CHORUS Immigration built this nation For those who dared to dream Intoleration will tear it down Rip it apart at the seams

Today ICE agents ate at Rose's café walked in the kitchen and took the cook away Done nothing wrong ... still has no rights
Some days we wonder if it's really worth the fight Nothing to share in this bountiful land Grown with the dirt ground deep into our hands Standing on both sides with a bird's eye view the little hope that was in our hearts... that's gone too

BREAK: Picking your crops... cleaning your table tops Washing your floors... even fighting your wars Collecting trash... under the table cash Watching your kids... like our mothers did

It's 4am and we're rolling out of bed

WWTFS

High atop of buildings I have soared Watched over every shore.
I stood tall. Welcomed all.
Draped fallen heroes home from war

I could bring crowds to their feet Waving to old glory's drumbeat Hands on hearts. Threadbare, torn apart Like our democracy

My stripes and stars. Stained and marred.
I don't remember how I fell this far.

Not the perfect union I admit.
All the sins both sides commit...

Truth benders. Patriots and pretenders Hope to god I've seen the worst of it

BR: From the shores of Tripoli to the surface of the moon Carry on, carry on.
Those yearning to be free. What so many fought to be, from sea to almost shining sea...

Wherever I am raised to fly Do my part guard and guide Unyielding to the last. Even at half mast Night or day standing by

CHORUS I'm still frayed around the edges
Faded blues and blood reds
Surround my fifty stars and this land of ours Don't ever let me fall again this far

Every day the names and faces change
